Digital drawings

‘Art is always who we are. It’s about community – sharing ideas through the creation of an artistic experience, in that way we are uniquely human, but we also belong to the world, our truths replicated throughout the rest of nature of which we are also members. This drawing is a virtual collaboration to pass the time, please print and color in, have your kids color in. cut and paste your own face, draw the tree out your window, make your own family tree etc.’ – Alvaro Barrington
